

IGA releases new website ahead of 2010 Gaming Awards Event

IGA release new Gaming awards website and looks to become a premier online surfing destination for International Gaming Industry.

11 May 2009, London, ---- The International Gaming Awards operated by Clever Duck Media Ltd a subsidiary of Empire Recruitment www.gaming-awards.com is to launch the new media charged website for the 2010 event, ahead of the annual IGE exhibition (26-28 January 2010).

The new IGA website, aims to become the premier online destination for all Awards related news.

IGA event attendees and nominees can visit the new IGA website to get information and update on the programme and the all important nomination news.

Information about previous events and Videos of the event are also available to view

www.gaming-awards.com/winners.htm

2010 Panel of Judges will be announced shortly, however, we are honoured to introduce our readers to the IGA 2010 chairman of the Judging panel www.gaming-awards.com/Our_Chairman.htm

Awards updates are now plugged in to blogs and social networking sites like Facebook, Twitter, Plaxo and others.

IGA also features other popular social networking elements such as YouTube videos and RSS feeds so users can be kept abreast of all updated information as and when it happens.

International Gaming Awards, which is held on 25th January 2010 and has been running since January 2008, will feature supporting charity videos on the web site and provide direct links in order to make a donation.

*There is no fee to take part; all we ask is that your entry be accompanied by a donation to our chosen charities. CARE International and CHILDREN with LEUKAEMIA.

Please donate generously.