

TCSJOHNHUXLEY Announces New Patent

TCS John Huxley Europe Ltd is pleased to announce the granting of patent number GB2425967B for which it holds exclusive worldwide license for manufacturing and distribution.

The patent has a priority date of December 23rd, 2003 and covers a live card gaming system which TCSJOHNHUXLEY believes represents the pinnacle of such technology.

In addition to the system, a method of simultaneous player decision-making for card games is patented.

Worldwide links of patents for both inventions are pending.

This represents a major milestone in achieving TCSJOHNHUXLEY's vision for live gaming which is to enable customers to vastly expand the distribution of their live card games electronically at low cost and to broaden mass-market appeal by lowering minimum bet thresholds.

Essential to delivering our vision is 100% reliability of live card value recognition and verification which has been achieved through many years of intense research and development.
